

Bill Marshall Awardees

2026

Emmanuel Roilides, Greece

A 25-Year Journey in Paediatric Mycology: From Bench to Bedside

2025

Irja Lutsar, Estonia

One size does not fit all: Dosing of antibiotics

2024

Fernanda Rodrigues, Portugal

Paediatric Infectious Diseases: A Clinical History

2023

Maria Tsolia, Greece

Recent advances in childhood TB and prospects for better disease control

2022

Nigel Curtis, Australia

To be or not to be (a clinician scientist in paediatric infectious diseases)

2021

Adilia Warris, United Kingdom

Fungal Enquiries

2020

Robert Cohen, France

Community-acquired infections: A continuum from carriage to serious diseases

2019

Terho Heikkinen, Finland

Viruses are hotter than ever

2018

Bill Marshall Awardees

Hermione Lyall, United Kingdom

Lessons from HIV – Can we eradicate congenital CMV?

2017

Carlo Giaquinto, Italy

Paediatric HIV: The European contribution

2016

James Cherry, USA

The Resurgence of Pertussis: Facts, Fiction, Myths and Misconceptions

2015

Ulrich Heininger, Switzerland

Pertussis – a never ending story?

2014

Pierre van Damme, Belgium

The education in vaccinology” versus “Vaccinology in the education

2013

Andrew Pollard, United Kingdom

215 years of vaccination: job done?

2012

Andrew Cant, United Kingdom

Of Man and Micro: The Child as the Father of the Man

2011

Steve Black, USA

Vaccine Safety and Public Confidence: A Vision for the Next Decade

2010

Jussi Mertsola, Finland

Bill Marshall Awardees

Pertussis - still with us

2009

Adam Finn, United Kingdom

Overloading the immature immune system: There is nothing either good or bad, but thinking makes it so.

2008

Ronald de Groot, the Netherlands

Pas de trois

2007

Olli Ruuskanen, Finland

It is not "just a respiratory virus" any more

2006

Stanley Plotkin, USA

Apologia Pro Vita Sua: A Life in Vaccines

2005

Claire-Anne Siegrist, Switzerland

Growing Stronger in a Wild World

2004

Richard Moxon, United Kingdom

From Mistaken Identity to Celebrity Status: a Microbial Odyssey

2003

Dominique Gendrel, France

Out of Africa

2002

Milan Cizman, Slovenia

Bill Marshall Awardees

The use and resistance to antibiotics: Heterogeneity, Guidelines and ESPID

2001

Juhani Eskola, Finland

Blind squirrel and other stories – my 18 years with conjugate vaccines

2000

Michael Levin, United Kingdom

Bringing the Laboratory to the Bedside: the Paediatric Infectious Diseases Clinician Scientist in the 21st Century

1999

John D. Nelson, USA

The Fate of the Mentor: Ikarus or Phoenix?

1998

Dimitris Kafetzis, Greece

Hippocrates, the Founder of Modern Medical Thinking, is his Era Ending?

1997

Mieke Hoogkamp-Korstanje, the Netherlands

The Strongest from the Very Beginning

1996

Heikki Peltola, Finland

Privilege of Being a (Research) Orchestra Player

1995

Ron Dagan, Israel

Aspects of the Epidemiology of Gastroenteritis

1994

Jaak Vossen, the Netherlands

Bill Marshall Awardees

Management of Infections in Immunocompromised Children

1993

George H McCracken, USA

The Training of Paediatric Infectious Specialists

1992

Urs B. Schaad, Switzerland

Meningitis in Children, Management and Therapy

1991

Ruggiero D'Elia, Italy

Diagnostic Approach in Infectious Diseases

1990

Timo Vesikari, Finland

From Rubella to Rotavirus (Vaccines)

1989

Constantinos Papadatos, Greece

Medical Research in Children

1988

Claus Simon, Germany

Antibiotic Therapy in Children

1987

Pamela Davies, United Kingdom

Neonatal Bacterial Infection: Lessons from Group B Streptococcus

1986

Walter Marget, United Kingdom

Paediatric Infectious Diseases during the last 30 Years and the Future Outlook

Bill Marshall Awardees